I am a well-respected & experienced consultant who helps public and private-sector organisations rethink how they build computer software, apps & services. I enjoy discovering how technology can make a real difference to people's lives.

I come from a family of teachers and know some of the difficulties schools, teachers and pupils face. I joined the governing body in March 2022 and my aim is to use my tech, communication & problem-solving skills to help the school as best as I can. My sons are currently in year 10 & year 7. I have a laid-back, easy-going attitude and I am keen musician who also enjoys running, socialising and reading."

Thanks, Rhyd
