

Mrs B Tillotson

My son began at Simon Langton in 2021 and has thoroughly enjoyed his time here to date.

Prior to my current roles I have worked in supply chain and logistics, private equity, and taught ESOL, and have lived in the Middle East, and Russia.

I have been in secondary comprehensive education since moving back to Kent in 2012. During that time my roles have included teacher of geography (and other subjects) from KS3 to KS5, head of department, head of year, lead for Duke of Edinburgh, and trip leader for a recent school visit to Ghana. I have a National Professional Qualification in Leadership for Behaviour and Culture.

My roles have a focus on safeguarding, and health and safety and as well as encouraging parental involvement in school trips and projects. I very much enjoy working with students and families to bring about positive opportunities for the community as a whole. This often requires considerable drive and determination to get parents on board and ensure a project reaches fruition.

I have wanted to become involved in governorship for some time, and so am delighted to now be a parent governor at Simon Langton.
